An Educate Together second-level school for Greystones

Educate
Together

Parents in the Greystones area have applied to the Department of Education and Skills to open an Educate Together second-level school.

Educate Together is the fastest growing patron body of schools in Ireland today. Set up in the 1970s, it now operates 58 primary schools throughout the country.

The school will be guided by Educate Together's core principles. It will be

- Multi-denominational
- Co-educational
- Learner-centred
- Democratically run

Students at the school will experience a new model of second-level education; one that provides a positive learning experience for all students, recognising students' individual differences as a resource, stimulating creativity and innovation and promoting the highest educational standards.

The school will be open to all families who want an Educate Together second-level school for their children. We invite parents/guardians to submit expressions of interest by completing the form overleaf.
